

Poems by a 21 year old

Sometimes let it be and let it go

-Suvanga

Sometimes its upbeat
Sometimes it is slow
You are a canoeist, make the best canoe
You have the paddles, control the paddles
Let the current not dictate your fate
Yesterday does not give you this state
Yesterday does not give you the chance
Today is music so do your dance
Sometimes its upbeat
Sometimes it is slow
You are the canoeist so, paddle your canoe

We will die one day
Everyone has their part to say
Everyone has eggs to lay
Life is like an ice cream
Where everyone has their own dream

I have always been walking alone
I have no fear to be shown
I have my seeds to grow
Which is growing slow

There is the wind that blows
There are stars that glow
There is the river that flows
People have time, but it is fast
They have a movie that can be cast
But not everything is a happy story
People have so much to worry
People live in a hurry
What is clear seems blurry
Who are we to judge
I can't hold a grudge, as I have come so far,
I am so tired, that I can't wish from a broken star

Lied

I am not like that
I am not a rat
I am the one who hunts, a cat
I don't want you is what I thought
I am a lion, a hunter that is what I thought
But I am a liar who lied to myself
I am actually an ant who didn't make it
But I am a liar to myself everyday

A little I listened
I understood a bit, but my heart was not ready for it
I waited for years and waited for more as I was warned, I was told, but my heart was not easily sold
I waited for years and would wait for more
But the ship has left and tears have rolled

Are you lost?

No, I am searching

Are you afraid?

No, I am careless

Do you know where you are going?

I wouldn't care less.

Sometimes I wonder how he/she was
Was she a good woman was he a good man?
I wonder where they are right now
I wonder if I will ever meet them again
And if I do will it be me or I would be someone else
Entirely wiped off my memory
People blame it to the heart
I blame it on people

With me or without

With me or without
The sun is going to be up
I know the flashback hurts
You call it attachments
I call it a waste, but It's ok to feel lost sometimes
It takes time to pull out knives
As we pause, resume, play and skip between dreams and reality
While the reverse button does not exist

I came in and lay there
Ordered a pizza and stayed there
Ate it and slept there
I failed and no one to bare

I finished it and crashed it
The right thing and can't do it
I tried but I blew it
The mirrors broke can't glue it
It burns and I can't breath
I put a bucket in

It will always be the same
Will it ever be different?
I see no wind in the dull sunshine
I feel the intense heat through my head as I sweat as heat grows
Every drop of flusters and precipitation
Goes down to desert sand
The drops making a mark, an impact for a second I look up and The presence of pain is not a presence anymore there is no trail of struggle.
There is no trail of tense heart beat, there is only sand of betrayal, grains of ignorance and no hope of finding water underneath the desert as I kill myself for the wish of the thirst quencher while the rain lady dances with clouds in some other continents, world or another universe, but not me.

The silent perception of beliefs springling around
The darkness of the streets reminds the stillness
It has always been this way, but we created waves
We created problems
We fashioned chaos
We felt attachments
We built love
We made happiness
We crafted sadness

We generated peace, but not really
It has always been there,
Just look at the stars at the darkest of nights
It will shed wisdom of the brightest lights

when you have made mistakes and can't retreat

When your eyes are on fire and half a sleep when you have gone so down and can't leap loved so much that you can't keep
when you have made mistakes and can't retreat
feels its right there but you can't summit

How

How do we know who to trust
That's what makes life interesting
When the trust was there but now it's gone
When you trust someone
And you fall for fun

Then the lesson you learn changes you
It either changes you or your perspective
Either you fall or work double
Smile to the faces of trouble
Create this insomniac bubble
With laughter the truth you mumble
Make it a word cause life's letter are jumbled
No one will pick you if you stumble
Made fun of if you are humble
Make it a word cause life's letter are jumbled

Parts and scars

Parts and scars and fake lies tormenting the purity of the elements without the actual stains how does curse rain?
It hurts but it doesn't pain
Each day, a walk to the lion's den
I don't have strength but I can create art with a pen what is inside can never change
It is far but never out of range
It is ok but not perfect it is fine but never ok
I still live, but I don't breathe the same

HAPPY SMILE AND HEAVY HEART

Happy smile and heavy heart
Swell wishes and dark corner
The ties and the disguise
The light sky and dark lies
I couldn't let go because there are no goodbyes

Be good and it will be bright
It is not always right
There is more to the world
The horrid always slide
The nasty always rides
Sea is massive:
but it does not always have high tide
I couldn't let go because there are no goodbyes

count days.
Nobody always stays
It is always the time and space
Nobody will always race
Let me run in my own pace
No strings attached,
The odds of presence probability of you being given a chance
The chances of you, me and everyone to dance is 1 in $10^{2,685,000}$ dear

I am a burden to the sphere which world keeps

Why did it start
How did it begin
When will it end
So far yet so close
I would bleed holding the thorns for the rose

With every presence around making me feel alone
With your music I would sing and weep
This is not adoration this is way too deep
I am a burden to the sphere which world keeps
I am tired of standing up in the valor of good support
However, waking up crashes that dream;
Thus, it always makes me slip
I am a burden to the sphere which world keeps

Will I pull it back ?

Byatha: The Pain

Why did it start
How did it begin
When will it end
So far yet so close
I would bleed catching the thorns for the rose

I would like to wrap you with star dust
I would give my life for that cost
This was something special
It was not my verdict
It was the clock's call to tick the place and space
It was time's call to put me in a race
I ran ,however I ran in opposite direction
I had a vison, target and a hope to be alone
But I did not want to feel alone
She put me together
And shattered me to the truth
We are all alone but only some feel alone
And I am among them

Let me breath

I ask for nothing but good feeling
I ask to be alone not feel alone
I ask for health to others
I ask why the despair;
Why does it bother me?

The grace just don't care
Always the imbalance prevails
Why is the wind in sail why not the air?
Why is the luxury so real why not the survival for real ?
Why is that we need extra
When something is close: why do we look so far

Take that away from me too

The luxury of being alone
The old age since silvertone
Take that away too
Nobody starts or stays stood
Some walk, some run with infinite stars in their ambitions
While some await with dreams and hope of return of glee

Thee doesn't only take it away
Thee makes us believe in falsehood of thousands of emotions
Thee makes us believe in the return
If everyone was created equal why is there so much to learn

Smoke slowly fades

Smoke slowly fades and the birds fly out
A little far away, I see one was in doubt
A little footsteps on to the edge it went
So bad! She didn't try and she fell to the ground

She had her wounds that time could only heal
Was she the cursed one, imperfect one, defective one?
She couldn't take it anymore she made a run

The fake laugh in you
The red light seemed blue
Every lie you told it seemed true
While I believe and travel with the time
I don't know why I sought

Why can't we stop and not run?
Why is that I fish for ?
While I see the bubble rise
I listen to the mute sound of the music in air
They say
"The sadness: it fades
The Happiness: it trades
The fear: makes us work
The lies: makes us question "
Why can't we stop and not run ?
Why can't we halt and not hassle ?
Why can't we stop, think and slowly build the castle ?
Why don't we stop and not run ?

Care

I see a dog and I care for it
The dog loves me and I do the same
I see people and I care for them
Some are hurt and I pick them up
They tell me about their rough past
I tell them things don't always last
They get up and be on their way
The next time I fall I expect the same
It's not them but me who is gullible
The open door, they leave it as it is
The open door, I close it

I don't want to bring rain cause I am your sunshine

I try to hide my sorrow in the curves of smile
I try to give sunshine while I am still in desolation
I want to be tall enough to tell you my story
However, I feel you will see me as a liability

I will give you my all, but What if my all is not enough
So I am trying to build a wall
An unmovable wall
An unbreakable wall
An unshakable wall
No matter how big the quake, just hold my hand I promise it will stand tall
Cause its not made of magic its made of belief that's all

The

The evening hurts a little
Makes my heart a little brittle
The sun sets down
The twilight is there
The nightfall takes place
The dusk is awaken
Hustling everyday
"Alas! for nothing to be taken"

It doesn't hurt when you don't understand

I try to forget you;
The more I get the feeling you are around me

The night went by with your memories
The day went by remembering you
I still feel flashes of your smile
Now that I've not seen you for a while
The more I try
The more I fail to hide
It scrambles with
I went to travel with the wind
With only thought of being there with you and only you

What if it's not destined to be that way?
Let me tell you a story
We understood the world slowly
The older we got, the wishes were out
The smaller we were, the Smaller they were
The older we got, the larger they grew
Some could be bought
Some could be taught
The wishes were out
The older we got
The way we handle wishes
"not gratified"
Taught us about the world a lot;
Sometimes you just
"can't fill a broken pot"

Hold

Hold my hands and I will hold you forever
Let me pray for you and all your endeavors
I remember you still: just your smile
You will always be in my speed dial
Why are you making all the reasons
I will play the victim of all the treasons
The might rain the storm no matter whatever seasons
Hold my hands and I will hold you forever
Let me pray for you and all your endeavors

While I hold back my tears:
Burden isn't the word but hurt it is

Why is it every time about money and class

Don't search for confidence

Search for clarity

I know it's hard

But foolish doesn't face reality

Be brave enough to love the fear

But strong enough to be clear

Be brave enough to be attached

But strong enough to forget

Be brave enough to give it all

But strong enough to change

Be brave enough to rend yourself

But brave enough to make memories

The deep science is divided among us all
Its always you, always were, always is, forever will remain
Just like melting Ice why do we weep
Just give a voice, wake from the sleep
When the solution comes to eye
Why are your eyes not dry?
Why is it you cry?
Why those strings
Why those chains
Why those shackles
Just "make a shed and let it rain, let the storm begin": that's life

Life is not running
Life is slowly moving on a tight rope
Just like me you also had some hope
Just like me you must have cried
Just like me you searched for reasons
Getting nothing but treasons
Enjoying or crying with every lessons
Life is noting but test of patience

I need a hug

I need a hug
I am tired of holding in
The fatigue is closing in
The knees are falling in
I am giving in

Let me hold myself a little more
Little things I do adore
Little hug and nothing more
Little light and darkness no more
Let me hold myself a little more
Let me stand again and fall no more
Let me hold myself a little more

Nothing will change until I change

The same mindset of the decade
Following the same herd brigade
Letting it live until it's dead
Bright colors, yes they will fade

As I grow old time change
Always a dreamer always in chase
Let me say nothing "be a sage"
If I speak that will be end of my days

What if we let go tomorrow
We will die with the same sorrow
Why not live today:
it's our breath we don't borrow

Having no regrets is all I want
Not to be hurt or hurt anyone human beings at the end of the day
Special, not special all should be treated the same way

Sorry mom your boy was born to fly

Day one you're at top

Day two they decide you to drop

Day three you start to talk

Day four you are shel shocked

The days went on

The last day you would remember

Time is passed the things to do different

There is so much to give

So much to give
So less to take
Why is there a disparity
When nothing is at stake

The world is cruel
Ego size like the blue whale
No matter how much you try
You have legs, thus you can't fly

Learn to walk before you run
Think before you act
As a matter of fact
Once its done, the train leaves track
The shot bullet can't be taken back

Hits different when we were young
Titled with what's right or wrong
Swam across no matter the current
She got a resting place in me for a rent
That's due with nothing but the cost
I have nothing but debt of trust
That will never be paid, always I tried first Even bullets of diamond shattered to dust

Sometimes it takes time
I can't force what isn't mine
I want something to shine
Even if it's penny or a dime
It tastes sour, but isn't lime
It ticks , but I don't want time
The dots really want a line
I am not sure down the line
When will I see for myself that I am good, but I am not fine

Somethings unturned were the best

Sometimes unlearning is the zest
Sometimes unturned was the best
Sometimes unheard of was cool
If I leave it now, its an act of fool

I want what's not called for
I want something natural
I want a place that isn't tall
I want to belong to a place where I can fall

There is so much to be said
But there is too much questions to be asked
It's been a while The meanings been Casted
Why is there so much hate ?

The reminiscence of the source
That is where you recide
The hurt keeps widening
Even though you hide
Even though time may be in my side
Even though it's high tide
The eyes so pretty that I can't lie and the abysmal heart can't decide

It's better not to talk
Than to be rude
I have no emotions
I depend on my mood
It's better not to walk
If you are barefoot and on the rocks
Bird doesn't bark it chirps
It doesn't walk it flies
When world is full of lies
Be like a bird,
try not to kill nor let them die
But sometimes,
things are out of hands
And self-possession slips like grains of sand

The day I change is when I change
I don't want to go out of my range
I am here for a cause, but I don't really want to pause

The reason I have to stop
The reason is all the way to the top
I can't buy it in shop,
Unless the money is brain, conscientious and what not

The reck of the pulmonary machine doesn't hurt anymore
I have been through so much that I can be thrown,
I can be rolled; I can be trolled, and I can be ignored
However, it hurts when you still smile and let go

The smell of earth is the strongest
When you feel so small,
You can hear the ants walk
Losing into the volatile luck :)

Loudness calls you
Silence scares you
Expectation fails you
Hard work prevails you

Seek inside yourself
Sink inside yourself
Link inside yourself:
Reality will surely give you the clue
What's real and what is not true

The sw

The sail is sold to the world
The adventure is written in the notes
The life I live is full of sure and certainty
However it has a silent hope

The fate is not in my hand
The world guides where it wants me
But now it is so sure
The joy of being fearful is gone

The time os passed
The ray is cast

Why do I stand alone ?

I see what I don't want to see
I feel the change in me
I hear the need in me
I smell the grace in me
I taste the "bitter" with want to flee

Alas, dear me, unfortunately Five sensory organs:
making it hard to breathe

Tears are for crying

While the city stops in a gridlock
The mind hops and is shel shock
Why is there a label
Everything you see on the table

The bread is there to be wasted
The spell is there to be casted
The needy is there to be interrupted
The tears are for the superabundant

Everyday it is the same

Some want my happiness

Some want my fame

Some want my loyalty

No one wants my pain

Some want faithfulness

Some had some conditions named

Tried it all, no difference anywhere

Finally find out, It is all the same

Some want my time

Some ask for life

As my age fades

Finally realized I need my own shade

So many questions

Why the sky so blue ?
Why the snow so white?
Why the stars at night ?
Why the humans that fight?

Who creates the divine
Who divided the lines
Who really creates the light ?
Is it really all fine ?

You bleed, you fight
You have reached massive heights
With respect and love for my mothers and sisters
With hands of strength and blisters
With guns in the battle field
With science in the space
With speed in the race
You are the one continuing Human race
"Massive respect"

I want to be brave again

I have been hit too many times
To see where I am now
I have been humble and I have bowed

The legends and the myths supports the end i.e good
The heart is stumbling from the past
The dark shadow it had cast
Am I the only one i.e slow and not fast

Too hard to wake again

I have been trying to stand
While crying on the sand
The drips of tears seeping
I want to let it go, its breaching

The whole world is singing
No one is listening
They say blinded by the lights
No need to hide, mountain is right there, but I am always scared of the heights

Why do I seek and unseek ?

When will I feel free from bounds

When will I see the real me

The existence in me

The tears with no pain

The hurts aren't deep

When it can be touched

The pain is none

When it hurts too much

Why is it always about money ?

We have plenty, but we ask for more
The bling bling sounds we adore
The surroundings, we ignore
Values forgotten by the rich and the poor

The more we keep, greater the strain
The lesser we hold, worse the rain
How much we need is never known
I would love to be in the wild free and unknown

WHERE THE MELANCHOLY REPULSES THE PLAIN

The change in plainness
The ripple of the waves
The wind in the air
The change is always there

The desert full of sea
The imaginary glee
The infinite lovely memories
Was never my history

Making the past fade
Present, my greatest friend
Suffering by the one
The mistakes I never made

Released from bounds and harmony

I want to be extracted

I want to be where I belong

I want to enter the void

Where nothingness makes complete sense

Where there is no joy or pain

Where light and dark doesn't exist

I want to enter the void

I have had enough of the cycle

Enough of the happiness

Enough of the sorrow

I want to enter the void

Memories

Its hard to make memories
It is even harder to forget them
You can see how the waterfall drops
It keeps on falling with no time to stop

The human in me searches for more
Never enough with a gold store
Making money and fame:
It will all end, after all it is a Long game

In the end we've got memories, stories, and tales

Life of an alone man

From boy to a man
I always had myself
God chose me or I chose god
To give me the worse he can

I will show until my final breath
There is more in the world than what we get Dreams are there to set
And I will not leave that to my faith

Everyone has their part to be told Someone's hurt, someone's broke
I know I will choke and that's how we fall
The best of us will be revealed when you give it your all

When

When Vigilant art

Makes me scamp over to my heart
When your smile makes nothing
But small distances: miles apart

When you leave

There will be more to achieve
But sadly left one's do haunt me
Will see you from corner, be happy and glee

When I saw you

Dreams were wishes full of showers
Mightiness in me, god gave me powers
Will miss you even in my final hours

When I move on

Will it be the demise of me
That much, I will see
I give up, finally I have bent my knee

It does not make sense

With sleep comes the bag full of tears
With loneliness around
Comes flaming Wishes turning me to ashes
The compressed heart: it smiles

Why the soft voices
Why
With nothing but regrets
And fallacies of false alarms

Mistake rebuild repeat

Weathering with age, the gap is widened
The hard shell splits into pieces
Heart breaks uneven while destiny chooses

I will go my own way

I don't know when to start;
the wound is there
Time will heal but will it seal ?

Divinity:

Will it justify
Will it clarify
Will it sanitize
Will it crucify

Innocence:

I have no face
I don't race
I care but I am not cared

What happened ?
Life is what turns in sec
Don't want to lie
What happens happens for good !

4 days of life
With new story
Changing me every day
While I am not lying but laying
And

THING, REALLY "THING" LMAO I RAN OUTTA WORDS HERE My VOCABULARY IS THE WORSE!

Such wonderful feelings

Such wonderful feelings

Eyes from the ground with empty ceiling

It can't be painted but just imagined

No such words with that much meaning

Aakaasha ma outa chil udyo

Too chill ko ke hi bar chaina

Akasha ma euta chil udyo

Tyo chil lai khi darr chaina

Akasha ma outa chil udyo

Too chil lai bachni radar chaina

I am standing alone on the highway

With no one but my shadow

With no one but my misery

With no one but my history

Everything I have ever loved

Has come back and haunt me

Has left me, can't breath

Has left me, can't sleep

Has left me, I will reach the top

A bit of sunshine with gloom
A bit of ice with Hume
A bit of fire with chill
And a little bit of heart with skill

Little little stepped on road
A little lousy but never lost;
Stability with no understanding

Vulnerable

You are the most vulnerable when you are happy
The expectation flies up
The moon seems larger
The day seems brighter

The skies fall with expectation
And the things go bellow realization

When you loose something so precious
When you loose something you thought it would forever remain

When you can't forget but neither can shed tears in the rain
When it's so much that it doesn't even pain
When it's directions but you can't turn
When it's thirst but you can't sip
Source is right there but the water is too deep
When you want to jump but scared to leap
When you are alive but still in sleep
When you have nothing, but nothing is too hard to keep

Just keep swimming,
Just keep running,
Just keep moving,
It doesn't always end well, or it doesn't always end bad
It's not always happy, or it's not always sad
Life is a book and that was a chapter, just turn the page

Keeping my head under shoulder of waves
Kept on moving with the current phase
Lead me to an unknown stage
Suffering of the struggling sage

With no implication of the time
The wave still reminds me of her
The gazing nightfalls
Imagination always brawls

The what could always makes me:
What if I could never move on What if I could never dream on
What if I could never move on

I miss you, but can't say
While happiness is around my way
Still I see the face I saw
I can't see her:
against the law

Hey I'm your cousin and I really like you and your very funny. Hello suvanga you are very very handsome and I think you.

What if I was

A sec faster
With love on my sight
Things done right
Ended it without a fight

There were only lights traveling slower than darkness
I could not finish the race, but I always think about the road: "what if..."

I see some glow
Some get slow
Some go with the flow
Some with the different role

Some demise in the hope
Some realize with "no"
Some understand with "never"
Some make sense with "wait"

With diamond kicks

Sun will fall too, but remember
If it's dark there is moon too
If a door closes there is a window too
If you break there is glue too
If there is a will, there is a way too
Keep finding the way
You don't need sun, moon, or torch
In the darkest of places
You can be your own ray

I walked

We went through the hills, the mighty terrains and the vast seas
We walked to find our destinies
We ran to find the truths
To uncover the untold stories of our existences:

I Jumped over all the fire lit fences
To find my own senses
Bruised myself, hurt myself, burned myself
Only to find out that I was scared
Scattered to find the real aid

The little did I find out that life is not meaningful:
Unless you make it
Life is difficult:
Unless you take it easy
Life is a problem:
Unless you work for a solution
Struggle is searching for colors
To paint our own canvas of life

Your laughter is my medicine
Your success is my pride
Your words are my therapy
My wisdom are your eyes

The first glimpse of you:
walking in the stairs
Will forever be in my memory
till the end of life,
till the end of time,
till the collapse of universe,
And that's how I recognized:
You are a girl, but
You are the girl

Let me drown in her universe

Let me swim in her thoughts

Let me rise in her eyes

Let me take the knife

Let me take the dagger

Harm me instead of her

Make me bleed

Cause she has and always will be the one

I will never be the one to run

Even if she has killed me for fun

Piles, loads, large amounts of issues
Finished the box of tissues
But nothing has changed and nothing will.
Until it's me who is evolving
The bar has always been elevating
But I have always been chasing
I want to cease, end, and stop the chase.
Change, tweak and evolve in a new race
Make a new face move in grace
Watch me, I am gone at lightning pace.

The infinite

There are infinite numbers of possibilities
Nothing surely is our duty
Then why surrender to the certainty
Why not Let the star guide us
What is this fuss
I am lost in the responsibility
In this strange city
I am an independent entity with no signed treaty

Like or Love

I started with someone unknown
I felt the future was known
The negatives started to fade
While the unknown stranger was the aid
Aid to 1000s of wounds we shared
The sufferings were similar
The texts were the only thing we connected
It was enough to stop the world for an eternity
It was enough for me to make the bend
Towards the one-sided like-to love that will never end

I sometimes believe that my dreams will come true
The overcast sky will go away
The voices of your unsaid words still are my favorite memory
This is love and that is the end of the story

Attachments

We came with nothing but our soul
Don't forget there is the end of the day too
We don't want to be attached to the wealth
All it takes is one day of bad health
We come and survive but they catch stealth
Life and death, pleasure and suffering, karma and balance
While the body still looks for attachments
The soul then flies away one day
Nothing in this universe is here to stay
You will suffer and plead for guilt
The wall of lies you have built
Will turn into flaming ashes and you have to walk on it
You will get exactly what you deserve and fit

God

God if you are there let me feel the energy
If you are there set me free
If you are there let me find you
If you are there let me exist in solidarity

WATER

Be like water
Flow in tranquility
Think high walk underneath
Don't be a specific genre, be a catalog
In an inferno, be an ice
In a storm, be a rock
In the world of luck, choose hard-work
In the world of connections, choose your own shadow
In the pitch-black darkness, be your own glow
Be like water
Let it boil, let it melt, let it freeze, let it rain, let it flow,
If something is out of our control, Just let it all go

Like or Love

I started with someone unknown
I felt the future was known
The negatives started to fade
While the unknown stranger was the aid
Aid to 1000s of wounds we shared
The sufferings were similar
The texts were the only thing we connected
It was enough to stop the world for an eternity
It was enough for me to make the bend
Towards the one-sided like-to love that will never end

I sometimes believe that my dreams will come true
The overcast sky will go away
The voices of your unsaid words still are my favorite memory
This is love and that is the end of the story

I walked, crawled, ran and fell
This life is a stage
The time of performance is the age
Or some say it's a book
Some say it's the division of phase
Some say we are in a maze
Some say it's a cage
Everyday we write the pages of incomplete stories
Everyone here always worries
As we walk crawl, run and sometimes fly
The days pass and time does too
No one here knows what is true
Even though they act like they do
Until they lie in a box of 6ft and two

Stay where you are

Soul is Trying to leave the body
Warning is there to throw me off
As it is extremely tough
Plain is needed to suffer the rough

I am ok Is what you say
Life Is just a one beam ray
It is down and am wishing for the day
Everyone is here for their part to say
9 ft is all I need to calm down

THE END
